

What movie category do families watch the most frequently?

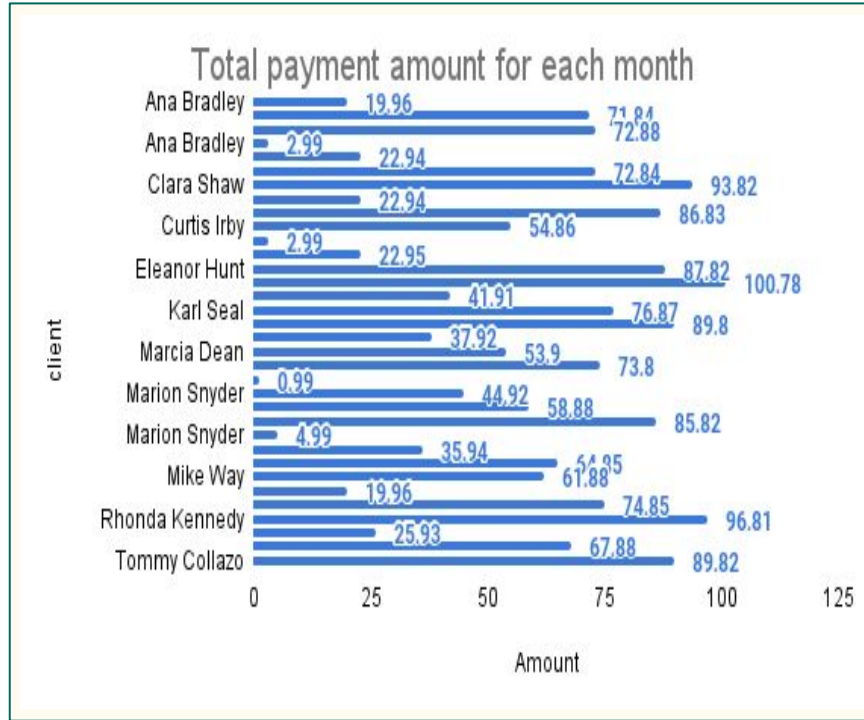

As depicted in this bar chart, there is a preference among families for renting animation movies over family-oriented films.

What is the combined rental duration for each of the family-friendly movie categories?

As evident from this data, the rental duration of family movies surpasses that of all other categories.

What is the aggregate payment sum for the top 10 customers each month?

For every month, the overall payments made by individual customers range approximately around 40, with the highest at 100.78 and the lowest at 0.99.

How are the sales distributed among the employees?

This graph indicates that Store Two consistently receives a significantly higher number of orders per month compared to Store One.